

Two Guys Marine Q&A

What problems might I have?

Your engine is designed for constant use. Certain things like your impeller and fuel may have gone bad over the winter. By bringing your boat to us, we can check for all possible issues and prevent them from becoming problems. Problems lead to costly repair and you off the water.

What type of service should I ask for?

Generally, spring is a good time to have your annual service done. This makes sure all your major components are inspected for reliability and can stop a minor issue from becoming a big problem.

What is covered in an Annual Service?

This service covers all major components of your engine. Things such as your cooling, fuel and electrical systems are inspected and maintained. Also many systems on your boat like your battery and bilge pump are checked for reliability.

You winterized my boat. Do I need to bring it back?

No. Whenever we winterize your boat we make sure it is ready for the next boating season. All you have to do is start the engine and go!
